East Loddon Merino Stud is a family business run by Tom and Marcus Hooke, based midway between Deniliquin and Hay, NSW.

We breed SRS merino sheep focusing on bold crimping, soft white wool, high growth rate, muscle and fat on wrinkle free sheep.

How we do it

- Over 15 years of SRS selection
- Strict Visual Selection
- Performance recording under commercial conditions
- MERINOSELECT ASBV's
- Genomic Testing

SELECTION PRINCIPLES

At East Loddon we take a balanced approach in our classing of animals. We undertake a strict visual appraisal along with benchmarked objective measurement, in the form of Australian Sheep Breeding Values (ASBVs).

At classing each animal is visually assessed on body structure, fibre quality and quantity and skin type (no wrinkle, thin and loose).

ASBVs are a fantastic tool for evaluating a number of other traits that are difficult to pick up just by eye. We take a lot of care ensuring the data we collect is best practice thus generating highly reliable breeding values for the most informed breeding decisions for us and our clients.
